

8. Broadband Services Element

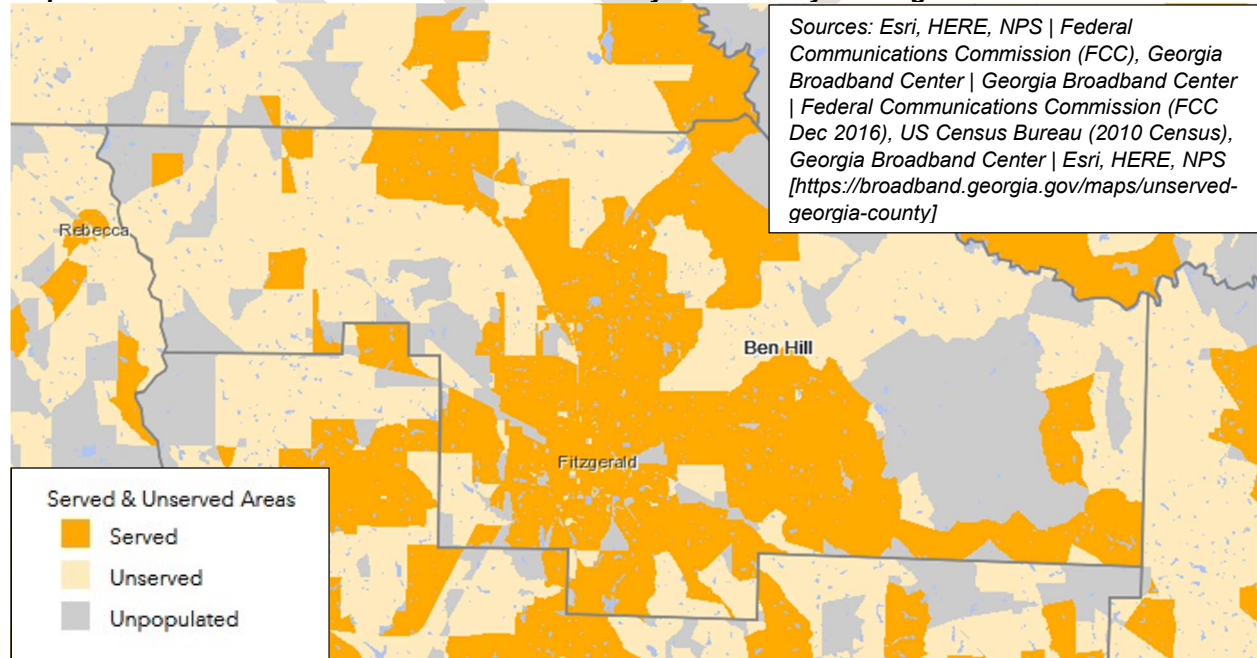

The Georgia legislature, in recognition of the importance of broadband infrastructure to the vitality of communities passed the Achieving Connectivity Everywhere (ACE) Act (SB 402) in 2018. The Act provides for broadband services¹ planning, deployment, and incentives, along with other purposes. It also requires comprehensive plans to include the promotion of the deployment of broadband services. Ben Hill County and the City of Fitzgerald recognize the importance of broadband expansion by including this Element in their Comprehensive Plan.

Provision of broadband services enables access by residents to a number of vital services such as healthcare, economic opportunity, and education. Expansion of rural broadband along with improvement in the provision of broadband services can address concerns of resident out-migration. Effective and efficient broadband enables internet-based businesses to succeed in the global economy. It is difficult to educate upcoming generations of students in web literacy and digital skills training without adequate broadband speed and connectivity.

Percent Unserved Locations: 11%
Unserved Households: 900
Unserved Businesses: 23
Unserved Population: 1,884
Total Households: 7,942
Total Businesses: 194
Total Population: 17,634

The latest data shown in Map 1 below identifies 11% of the locations in Ben Hill County as unserved. However, it has been noted the technique of classifying unserved locations is too broad. A Census block is categorized as “served” if at least one consumer in a Census block has broadband service available to them. As more granular data becomes available, a more accurate classification is expected and the percentage unserved is anticipated to rise.

Map 1: Served & Unserved Areas in Ben Hill County and the City of Fitzgerald

¹ As defined in O.C.G.A. §50-40-1. Definitions. “Broadband services” means a wired or wireless terrestrial service that consists of the capability to transmit at a rate of not less than 25 megabits per second in the downstream direction and at least 3 megabits per second in the upstream direction to end users and in combination with such service provides:

- (A) Access to the Internet; or
- (B) Computer processing, information storage, or protocol conversion.

County statistics are based on a fixed, terrestrial broadband definition of 25 megabits per second down and 3 megabits per second up, and where the broadband service is available to at least ONE consumer (residential and business) in a census block. Populated census blocks that did not meet this definition are delineated in Map 1 (above) as 'Unserved'.

70.7% of households in Ben Hill County have a computer, compared to 87% of households statewide.² Broadband internet subscriptions in the County are held by 59.5% of households.³ During the analysis of broadband services provision in Ben Hill County, an electronic poll was distributed to businesses, hospitals, government bodies, libraries, and educational facilities. 83% of respondents indicated their Internet service options are not adequate (non-residential). 67% indicated the internet speeds and reliability do not sufficiently meet their needs. The results of the broadband poll are included in the Appendix.

Ben Hill County and the City of Fitzgerald constructed a fiber network to connect City and County facilities approximately 20 years ago. The network was sold to the Georgia Public Web prior to 2015. The long term assumption is that the network will connect to the hospital to facilitate telemedicine services and ultimately will connect to the school system. In terms of other internet service providers, City and County industry representatives have found the current providers to be insufficient in their services and unresponsive in meeting their expectations of high quality and dependable internet service.

The County and City do not have full penetration by cellular service providers. Verizon is available in much of the County; however T-Mobile and Sprint are not presently available. This impacts tourism as visitors to Fitzgerald are not able, depending on their cellular service provider to utilize navigation applications to reach the City from I-75. There is the potential for impacts to public safety as there are a few dead spots within the County where emergency management professionals are not able to communicate with one another.

Ben Hill County and the City of Fitzgerald recognize there are many barriers for private broadband services providers to effectively roll-out necessary broadband infrastructure in rural areas of the State. City and County leaders recognize the importance of broadband quality for industry retention and recruitment within this small, rural community. Community leaders continuously seek improvement in the quality of life for the rural residents of Ben Hill/Fitzgerald. Industry relocation and business creation are dependent on the necessary infrastructure being in place. The lack of high quality broadband infrastructure is a major impediment to not only recruitment but also for the expansion of established local industry. The Broadband Ready Community and Site designation has been established to incentivize private investment in the provision of rural broadband services. The County and City plan to apply for these designations and signal to the State and to private Internet Service Providers their prioritization of rural broadband improvement and expansion in their community.
